The Gathering of the People

First Congregational Church of Los Angeles is a safe place for all people, and we celebrate our diversity of race, creed, age, ability, gender, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, gender identities and expressions... We extend a warm welcome to all this morning and especially those who are with us for the first time. Your presence both enriches us and this time of celebration together ~

Please note that our services are live streamed at fccla.org/live.

Words of Gathering

Janette Tovar & Rev. Fregin

If we boil down the purpose of all of our living.

If we follow the thread of all our questions.

If we uncover what is beneath all this grief and discovery:

We find love, love, love,

The very heartbeat of God.

Love, sturdy and steadfast.

Love, heartbreaking and heart-opening.

Love, as in, we belong to each other.

Love, as in, we will let sorrow turn us towards compassion.

Love, as in, we will let compassion guide us towards wise action.

Love, as in, God is within each living thing.

Love as in, God moves between us.

Love, as in, God is the possibility that stretches before us.

This morning, we give thanks for love in all its dimensions, as we open our hearts, our minds, and our bodies
in this time set apart.

Love Now Ascending

NICAEA

Holy, holy, holy, love now ascending
Early in the morning our song shall rise to you.
Holy, holy, holy, joy that has no ending
Giving, forgiving, breathing life anew.

Holy, holy, holy, love without a limit
Care that binds creation in sacred unity,
Holy, holy, holy, birthing every minute,
Christ, Love's revealer, sets our spirits free.

Holy, holy, holy, infinite compassion,
Makes a place for every soul in God's eternal reign,
Holy, holy, holy, truth beyond religion,
Love that endures should nothing else remain.

Holy, holy, holy, raise your voice in singing,
Join the cosmic chorus in praise of Love divine,
Holy, holy, holy, God beyond all naming,
Echoes our song in harmony sublime. [JBurklo]

Prayer of Awareness

Rev. Fregin

God of fresh starts, of new beginnings, of renewal and restoration.
We awake to your grace, embraced by love unconditional.

With each new morning you birth possibilities in us and around us.
We are surrounded by Sacred potential and we know deep in our hearts, there are so many ways to love.

May we rise to this day's call;
to listen for the aches,
to give voice to the beauty,
to be companions to justice,
and to drink from the deep well of joy,
both now and in all the days to come.

May it be so.
*May it be so for all of us -
Amen and Amen!*

The Lord's Prayer

Janette Tovar

*Weaver of Life, Ancient and Unfolding,
How sacred is your Presence!
We lean on your guidance.
We seek your love.
We open to your transformation.
Provide us bread in body and spirit to sustain us in faith and solidarity.
Companion us with grace
as we seek to live lives of forgiveness and compassion, repair and accountability.
We remember those who have supported us as we seek to support others in all the mess and glory of this human journey.
Guard our minds and hearts from the temptation of domination and turn our loyalty away from the systems of evil.
For the whole cosmos hums with your wisdom.
Everything that lives, returns to your care.
Our thanks and honor to you,
Gracious Web of Existence,
Our Source and our Home.
Amen and Amen.*

[enfleshed]

Gloria Deo

Glory be to God, and to the Christ and to the Holy Ghost,
As it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be.
World without end, Amen, Amen.

Passing of the Peace

Rev. Fregin

Though the mystery of God remains beyond grasp,
the Spirit gifts us with glimpses of justice,
with touches of love,
and with whispers of truth.

Always and everywhere,
the Wisdom of God is being revealed, that we might live and love differently together,
free from the ways that destroy.
On this day, may we recognize the Holy Mystery that surrounds us and reveals the ways of collective liberation - and beauty.

This morning, may the peace of God be with you.
And also with you!

You are invited to share this ancient greeting with a bow

Invitation to Silence and Prayer

Silence

After the silence, you are invited to come forward to bring your written prayers and to light candles to signify the prayers of your hearts and pray for the life of the world.

Prayer of Our Hearts

Holy One, deep within our being, we give thanks for life and for the love that makes us whole.
No matter where we go, you are with us.
If we wander from love's way out of fear or in pursuit of power,
you come to find us.

If we are turned away from places we once called home,
you walk with us on the road to freedom.

If we desire to create places of belonging that are just and restorative, you empower us with all we need.

If we go looking for what is missing in us,
you meet us in the searching,
and lead us on the paths of restoration.

You help us, Holy One, to not grow weary in doing good,
in telling the truth, in loving one another, in practicing and pursuing what is just,
and in finding renewal in the beauty and delight that persists around us.

Holy One, help us to realize you will never stop reminding us that always and forever, we are your beloved children, no matter where we go.

In these precious moments, we give thanks for the roads
we have traveled together, and we give thanks for all that is before us.
Amen and Amen.

Invitation to Generosity

Janette Tovar

At First Church, we consider every pledge, tithe, offering and contribution a gift for the life of our community of faith. No matter how they're given, our gifts show gratitude. You are invited to visit our website at fccla.org/give. Our hospitality team will also bring baskets for your in-person gifts during the Offertory.

Offertory

"Ah, Non Credea, Ah! Non Giunge"
Laurel Irene and Dr. Abraham Ross

VINCENZO BELLINI

*"I didn't believe that love could fade so quickly. Perhaps my tears can revive you. Ah! Human thought can't manage to grasp the happiness I feel. I can barely believe my own senses. Love is revived!
Let us always unite in a single hope. From this place that we live, we shall build a heaven of love."*

Doxology

From all that dwell below the skies,
let the Creator's praise arise!
Alleluia! Alleluia!
Your name shall sound and praises soar till suns shall rise and set no more.
Alleluia! Alleluia!
Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia!
[adapt/Isaac Watts, 1719]

Offering Prayer

Janette Tovar

God of Grace and Love, remind us as we leave this time together, and filled us with your Spirit of Love.

As we offer all our gifts and talents, O God,
give us the vision to embody your wildly inclusive love,
so that by our words and our actions,
we may dismantle the walls of division and co-create our lives with your grace and love, on this day and on all the days to come.

May it be so.
May it be so for all of us!
Amen and Amen.

Words of Blessing

Rev. Lehman

The world now is too dangerous and too beautiful for anything but love.

May your eyes be so blessed you see God in everyone.
Your ears, so you hear the cry of the poor.

May your hands be so blessed that everything you touch is a sacrament.
Your lips, so you are speaking nothing but the truth in love.

May your feet be so blessed you run to those who need you.

And may your heart be so opened,
so set on fire, that your love,
your love, changes everything.

[A Black Rock Prayerbook]

May it forever be so.
May it forever be so for all of us!

*Hymn for the Journey

God Whose Love is Always Stronger

HYFRYDOL

God whose love is always stronger
Than our weakness, pride and fear,
In your world, we pray and wonder
How to be more faithful here.
Hate too often grows inside us;
Fear rules what the nations do.
So we pray, when life divides us:
Give us love, God!
Make us new!

Love is patient, kind and caring.
Never arrogant or rude,
Never boastful, all things bearing;
Love rejoices in the truth.
When we're caught up in believing
We will never live in peace,
Show us Jesus' way of living;
May our strength in you increase.

May our faith in you be nourished;
May all people hear your call.

May our lives be filled with courage
As we speak your grace for all.
Now emboldened by your Spirit
Who has given us new birth,
Give us love, that we may share it
Till your love renews the earth. [adapt/CarolynWinfreyGillette]

Fugue in G major K. 574 – W. A. Mozart

Inside The Music

“Reflecting on almost a decade here at FCCLA, I feel overwhelmed by the magnitude of love and connection I’ve shared in community with you all. There aren’t words for what this experience has meant to me, and we are going to miss you all deeply. The music today is several pieces that I really wanted to sing. They connect around a broader, universal integration of love and being. Some are more obvious, like Abbie Betinis’ “Love Is Love Is Love” that she wrote for simple group singing, though the message is anything but simple in our day and age. The famous “Ah, Non Credea, Ah! Non Giunge” from Bellini’s “La Sonnambula” is a monster anthem to love. The opera’s finale, it brings everyone together around a belief that love is the central architect of life, and we can hope to love in perpetuity. I wrote “Symphony For Voices 3: Mycelial” as a long-form improvisation. We’ll do the last part of it today, which was inspired by the physicist Roger Penrose. I heard him speak passionately about our connection to the universe, ergo, all things. I amended his quote a little for the music. In the actual quote he says: “You are music. . . You are the universe experiencing itself for a brief moment before dissolving back into the eternal field structure.” Every time I think about this I’m moved. The world around us, everything we know and understand, are expressions of the same eternal field structure. For whatever reason we come into being and then we return to that oneness. That, to me, is the essence of love, and it makes me want to love deeply in order to remain close to the source for the time that I am aware of my place in the universe. I feel like Mozart was experiencing a similar reflection as he wrote his final piece, the “Requiem in D Minor.” The opening is so tender, and even the double fugue in the “Kyrie” rings with depths of passion and promise. Although he set the text of the death mass for which he was commissioned, the music explodes with the beauties of life and love. It rattles through us reminding us to awaken into the energy of this moment. He’s calling to us still to live and love and be in concert with each other. The simple, elegant beauty of Stanford’s “Beati quorum via” speaks for itself as an expression of commitment to love as a way of life. It always makes me feel expanded and connected to others. And I had to program something by Bernice Johnson Reagon. She is one of the composers whose capacity to communicate deep truths has so consistently marked my time here with you all. I love hearing and singing her music. In the last verse of “I Remember, I Believe” that we’ll sing she resonates with these other composers by saying “My God called to me in the morning due, the power of the universe knows my name. Gave me a song to sing and sent me on my way, I raise my voice for justice, and I believe.” The whole song has a careful balance around knowing and unknowing. In the song, she releases that which she can’t fathom into places that won’t weigh us down as she picks up the song that she’s been given and sings it for all to hear. That’s a promise to live by, and one that FCCLA has been leaning into more and more over the last decade. I’ll enjoy watching the ways that you all continue to deepen into the strengths of this community as it leads the way into the future of Los Angeles and the world, even as it brings you all together in love.” ~ Dr. David Harris
