The Gathering of the People

First Congregational Church of Los Angeles is a safe place for all people, and we celebrate our diversity of race, creed, age, ability, gender, religion, cultural background, sexual orientation, gender identities and expressions... We extend a warm welcome to all this morning and especially those who are with us for the first time. Your presence both enriches us and this time of celebration together ~

Please note that our services are live streamed at fccla.org/live.

Listen: the fingerprints, footprints, and soul-prints of the Creator, have put their mark on us as we begin our time together on this day...

As children of the Most High, we affirm that life is a journey of faith:
A journey to the heart of life, to the center of God's awesome creation, to the intersection of holy moments.

As siblings of the Christ, we affirm that life is a journey of faith:
*A journey to the edge of life, to the boundaries of the human condition,
to the intersection of holy moments.*

As children and siblings, we affirm that life is a journey of faith:
A journey to the in-between places of life: the encounters, confrontations, serendipities, the intersection of holy moments.

As a people gathered from near and far, we affirm that life is a journey of faith:
Let us begin anew, here and now, in this place and time. Let this be an intersection of holy moments. Let this be our act of thankfulness for the grace and goodness of this life together!

May it be so.

May it be so for all of us!

Please stand now, in body or in spirit, for our Hymn of Gathering

Hymn of Gathering

When the Saints Go Marching In

Oh when the saints go marchin in, Oh when the saints go marchin in Oh how I want to be in that number, when the saints go marchin in

Oh when the sun refuse to shine, oh when the sun refuse to shine
Oh how I want to be in that number, when the sun refuse to shine

Oh when that horn begins to sound, oh when that horn begins to sound
Oh how I want to be in that number, when that horn begins to sound

Oh when the saints go marchin in, Oh when the saints go marchin in Oh how I want to be in that number, when the saints go marchin in

Prayer of Awareness

Rev. Fregin

Creator God, maker of dancing stars and moonlit summer nights, sender of gentle breezes and swirling winds, finder of lost opportunities and mender of broken dreams, you bless our lives with holy possibilities, beckoning us on a journey with you – and your still-speaking voice.

Compassionate God, you know us inside and out.
When our hearts sigh with grief too large to carry—you are there.
When our tears flow like angry streams—you are there.
When doubts snare us like a trap—you are there.
When hope dwindles to a thin strand—you are there.

Gracious and Loving God, you know our comings and our goings.
You know when we fail and when we find success.
You know the deepest longings of our hearts.
Through it all, your love surrounds us, embraces us, sustains us, and opens our eyes to the wondrous possibilities you place before us.

*In the promise of this moment, Holy One, speak to us anew that we might capture the vision for living fully as your children, whose love and strength, will help nurture freedom and community in our world.
Amen and Amen.*

The Lord's Prayer

Dr. Jay Prewitt Cruz

*Weaver of Life, Ancient and Unfolding,
How sacred is your Presence!
We lean on your guidance.
We seek your love.
We open to your transformation.*

*Provide us bread in body and spirit to sustain us in faith and solidarity.
Companion us with grace
as we seek to live lives of forgiveness and compassion, repair and accountability.
We remember those who have supported us as we seek to support others in all the mess and glory of this human journey.
Guard our minds and hearts from the temptation of domination and turn our loyalty away from the systems of evil.
For the whole cosmos hums with your wisdom.
Everything that lives, returns to your care.
Our thanks and honor to you,
Gracious Web of Existence,
Our Source and our Home.
Amen and Amen.*
[enfleshed]

Gloria Deo

Glory be to God, and to the Christ and to the Holy Ghost,
As it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be.
World without end, Amen, Amen.

Passing of the Peace

Rev. Fregin

Let us pause . . .
for a brief moment, and cease our frantic pace
Let us imagine . . .
the possibilities for being our authentic selves
Let us create . . .
a space for our Muses and be open to discovering our creativity Let us become . . .
catalysts—dance, sculpt, sing, play our holy art for the world.

And as we pause, imagine, create, and become more of who we truly are...

May the peace of God be with you.
And also with you!

You are invited to share this ancient greeting with a bow

Reading from the Wisdom of Our Tradition from Psalm 148

Dr. Jay Prewitt Cruz

Let all people praise the Beloved, who is exalted in heaven and on earth;
whose glory is above heaven and earth.

For all are to be called friends, companions to the true Friend, giving their lives joyfully as co-creators and people of peace.

*Praise to the Blessed One,
the very Breath of our breath,
the very Heart of our heart.*

For this chorus of the ancients...
Thanks be to God!

Prayer of Our Hearts from Psalm 119

Rev. Fregin

Holy One, you whisper our names, inviting us to dream, to wonder, to be filled with awe as their holy possibilities appear on our horizons.
In this sacred time and space, we wonder, individually and collectively, if this time of holy possibility is truly meant for each one of us.

Trusting in the wisdom of the ancestors who have gone before us, this morning we open our minds, our hearts, and our bodies to you, Holy One;
You are here and available for each one of us, for all of us,
and in this time, anything is possible.

All of us?

Yes, all of us, and as we breathe together, may we begin to expect the impossible.

Are we sure it is for all of us? The proud and the strong, the lost and the searching, the joyous and the sad?

Absolutely! Breathe in together and begin to experience the impossible.

All of us...word-arrangers and finger-painters, rope-jumpers and slow-walkers, belly-laughers and soul-singers?

Yes! Breathe in together and begin to live the impossible.

Here and now, O Holy One, break into our experience, take our hands, and call us again into the heart of life on this journey we are privileged to share.

May it be so.

*May it be so for all of us,
gathered here in this time and place, together.
Amen!*

Invitation to Generosity

Dr. Jay Prewitt Cruz

At First Church, we consider every pledge, tithe, offering and contribution a gift for the life of our community of faith. No matter how they're given, our gifts show gratitude. You are invited to visit our website at fccla.org/give. Our hospitality team will also bring baskets for your in-person gifts during the Offertory.

Bell Choir, Grace Sheldon-Williams, Director, Jordan Leicht, Alto Saxophone

Doxology

From all that dwell below the skies,
let the Creator's praise arise!
Alleluia! Alleluia!
Your name shall sound and praises soar till suns shall rise and set no more.
Alleluia! Alleluia!
Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia!

[adapt/Isaac Watts, 1719]

Offering Prayer

Dr. Jay Prewitt Cruz

Good and Gracious God, we are overflowing with gratitude for the ways in which you continue to co-create the present, and the future, with us.

We ask that you help us discern and come to know - all that is happening around us, among us, and within us, as we journey together, guided by your light and your love.

May it be so.

May it be so for all of us!

Amen and Amen!

Please be seated

Words of Blessing

Rev. Fregin & Rev. Lehman

That when freedom comes we will open our eyes to see it.

*That when freedom shows up we will let ourselves be overcome not by fear but by the love
it bears.*

That when freedom shines
we will bring it with us
all the way
all the way
all the way home. [adapt/jrichardson]

May it be so.
May it be so for all of us!

Choral Response

Down by the Riverside TRADITIONAL AFRICAN-AMERICAN SPIRITUAL Brandon Harris, Soloist, Dr. Ianthe Marini, Conductor

*Hymn for the Journey

Down by the Riverside GONNA LAY DOWN MY SWORD AND SHIELD

Gonna lay down my burden
Down by the riverside, down by the riverside, down by the riverside.
Gonna lay down my burden
Down by the riverside, and study war no more.

Chorus I ain't gonna study war no more, ain't gonna study war no more,
Ain't gonna study war no more.
I ain't gonna study war no more, ain't gonna study war no more,
Ain't gonna study war no more!

Gonna lay down my sword and shield
Down by the riverside, down by the riverside, down by the riverside
Gonna lay down my sword and shield
Down by the riverside, and study war no more.
Chorus

Gonna walk down that road of peace
Down by the riverside, down by the riverside, down by the riverside
Gonna walk down that road of peace
Down by the riverside, and study war no more.

Allegro Agitato in G minor: Davy Jones plays his Organ (Hans Zimmer, adapted for Organ by C. Bull)

Inside The Music

"My childhood best friend moved to New Orleans in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina, feeling called to help rebuild its community. Her time with the Habitat for Humanity led her to a group of musicians who introduced her to the rich and diverse cultural ecosystem and musical landscape of the city. She forged an alliance with the lawyers in the area and has been fighting against those who have sought to gentrify downtown with noise ordinances and music curfews. In an interview with the city she stated, "If you don't want to hear music into the night...then don't move to Downtown New Orleans. You must understand the community in which you live, not wish to alter that which defines it."

On this August 30th, the 21st anniversary of Hurricane Katrina, we remember this rich diverse community by celebrating the cultural ecosystem of its music that has defined our country. "American music culture IS Black culture", says rapper Yelawolf, reflecting on the recognition that the music of our country does not exist without the rhythms, melodies, harmonies, and spirits sung by those enslaved by her, brought to her shores in chains, made to build this nation against their will, and reclaiming their humanity and spirit through song: the ultimate act of resilience and resistance. These songs of the enslaved, coming from the body and the breath to reclaim that those bodies and that breath is human, became the African-American spirituals to gospel to blues to jazz to country music to rock and roll to pop music that we know today. Indeed, American culture IS Black culture.

It is for this reason that today at First Church, as we explore the theme of Understanding Community, we centralize the rich diversity of music from the Black tradition. Precious Lord, take my hand, wrote Thomas Dorsey in his desperate musical plea in the aftermath of great personal loss. Set masterfully by the great Gospel pianist Arnold Sevier in our arrangement today, we repeat the phrase take my hand, take my hand, take my hand—the only way to build community together. We continue by singing and playing music of the jazz tradition as we highlight the many iterations of ensemble community here at this church: with bell choir and saxophone soloist as they Take 5, with solo singers and jazz combo as they beckon us to community together—Won't you be my neighbor?, and with full chorus as we harken back to the music from which jazz ultimately came: the African-American spiritual. Gonna walk down that road of peace down by the Riverside where we will study war no more. Let us continue to seek understanding of our community, growing ever into her authentic potential." ~ Dr. Ianthe Marini
