Words of Gathering

Lauren Seely & Rev. Lehman

We are inseparable from generations past and generations future.

The lives of the ones who came before us are present all around us.

The needs of those to come call upon us this day.

What are we doing with all we have inherited - the wonderful and the terrible?
What will we leave behind?

May the Holy things, the righteous things, the things that make us brave in spirit and fierce in hope be our source of wisdom and guidance as we strive to live faithfully-to the Sacred to each other to those past and yet to come in these perilous and precious days we have been given.

May it be so.

May it be so for all of us!

Holy Mystery

AUSTRIAN HYMN

Holy Mystery, Holy Wisdom, Wholly Love, who guides our way, Loving Presence, Source of Being, now transform us day by day.
Words of Scripture tell our stories, voices rise in gifts of song, Calling us to loving action, faith-filled as we journey on.

See the streams of living waters, springing from eternal love,
Wells supplying all that matters, and all fear of want remove;
Who can faint while such a river ever flows their thirst t'assuage?
Grace, which like our God, the Giver, never fails from age to age.

We are partners in creation, bound by love to all around,
Seeking justice and compassion, sharing truths that we have found.
Spirit - Source of Inspiration, Love - our song along the way,
Holy Mystery, Holy Wisdom –Source of hope with each new day.

Prayer of Awareness and Confession

Rev. Lehman

Holy One of freedom and liberation and reconciliation - you have given us the law, spoken through prophets, and provided us with the Spirit to help guide us in love and justice.

Still we struggle.

The complexities of life and challenges of being human often win over. In our pain we harm one another, we do not intervene when our neighbors are targeted,
and we become possessive of power and resources.

Forgive us, O God.

And then, Gracious One,
ground our lives in mutual care and connection,
as we share with you - a vision of the belovedness of each one of us, which is always and forever - the cornerstone of your collective reality.

*For this and so much more, we are grateful.
Amen and Amen!*

The Lord's Prayer

Lauren Seely

*Mother of us all,
who dwells within and beyond,
Sacred is your name.
May your holy vision for collective flourishing come to fruition among us.*

*May your dreams of justice, love, compassion, and connection be enfleshed on earth.
Provide us today with what we need to be nourished in body, soul, and heart.
Forgive us for the harm we cause as we seek to forgive those who have harmed us.
Lead us away from everything that destroys and liberate us from the hands of evil.
For you are the ultimate source of hope.
Your power-with exceeds all power over.
Your presence incites eternal wonder.
All praise to you, our comfort and strength.
Amen and Amen! [enfleshed]*

Gloria Deo

Glory be to God, and to the Christ and to the Holy Ghost,
As it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be.
World without end, Amen, Amen.

Passing of the Peace

Rev. Lehman

In the center of the whirlwind lies an eye.
Still.
Open.
Calm.
Before we come into the world,
it is as though we live in that center –
no worries,
no storms,
only peace.

As we find our way in this life, even in the midst of chaos,
may we remember that center
and, as the need arises, and it must,
may we hold
to the calm, open, stillness, knowing it as home. [gvosper]

This morning, may the peace of God be with you.
And also with you.

You are invited to share this ancient greeting with a bow

Prayers with the People

Invitation to Silence and Prayer

Silence

Prayer of Our Hearts

Gracious and Holy One,
we gather this morning
opening to your healing power.
We do not understand all the things that make us whole,
nor the mystery of all that hurts us in body,
mind, and spirit.

But we do know this:
that the presence of the Christ,
the hidden wholeness coursing through your wondrous universe, weaves, from the dropped threads of unfinished lives,
a fabric of unmatched beauty.
We come this morning, O God, seeking less to understand this Healing Source than to open ourselves
to its sacred flow, released in us through this simple act of gathering - singing, praying, and holding one another and our beautiful, but often broken world - in your love.

This we pray.

Amen. [adapt/bsanguin]

Words of Blessing

Rev. Fregin

Today we have gathered our courage in community because...
*We can do hard things
Brave things
Beautiful things
Risky and transformative things.*

The Sacred travels with those who journey toward freedom.
*For the sake of the collective life
For the sake of disrupting evil
For the sake of the human soul.*

We are called and companied, never really alone.

May our hearts be encouraged both this day - and in all the days to come.

*Hymn for the Journey

Come Now, O Wisdom

SLANE

Come now, O Wisdom, we need your clear voice;
Speak and awaken our hearts to rejoice.
Gracious Creator of more than we know,
In your own image may we ever grow.

Come now, O Wisdom, abide in our souls;
Stir in us visions of life free and whole.
Wisdom, your pathway to justice and peace,
With you our dreams find their fullest release.

Wisdom, more precious than rubies or gold;
With you our graces forever unfold.
No fame or fortune with you can compare;
Pour out your blessings, so rich and so rare.

Wisdom your grace joins all heaven and earth;
With you we labor new life to give birth.
Come now, O Wisdom, our Midwife and Friend,
Open our hearts to your world without end.

Postlude

Dr. Emma Whitten, Guest Organist

Fanfare, Op. 85 – C.S. Lang (1891-1971)

Inside The Music

“In our musical exploration today of healing division, we focus on that which unites us. We begin with the call for unity —let all the world in every corner sing — composed by the prominent 20th century British progressive social activist Ralph Vaughan Williams, whose work was informed by his ideals that the healing properties of music should be accessible for all and not reserved for the economic elite. We hear the urgency in his invitation through the insistence of the organ line and the rhythmic pulse of the choral homophony. Sometimes love sounds rousing! We meditate on the theme of healing with the tune and poem That Which Can't be explained by Peter Eldridge, arranged by Laude's own Katelyn Dietz. In it, the singer inquires about differences unreconciled, questions of shaky refuge, and the agnostic presence of spirit, connecting always to loving that which can't be explained. Sometimes love sounds intangible and uncertain!

Brandon and Dr. Whitten then offer us the Rondo from John Carter's Cantata which implores us to ring-a-them-bells, referring to the joyful anticipation of the Jesus who came to heal the nations. Sometimes love sounds insistent! And finally, we sing Amen —let it be so— in the Kelly McCandless sonic poem which explores the meaning of the word. In it, she discovers that Amen, to her, means so let it be—so it shall be—we shall be who we are, one in the spirit. Let us love one another—Amen. Sometimes, love sounds like radical acceptance and the healing of division.” ~ Dr. Ianthi Marini
